

Guyana, a poor country in South America, is facing significant risks due to climate change. The country's wet tropical climate, characterized by ...

This project is being pursued to support Guyana in the preparation of its Third National Communication to the Conference of the Parties to the United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change ...

Guyana, a small country on the northern coast of South America, is grappling with the severe impacts of climate change. Rising sea levels, which are increasing several times faster than ...

Warming temperatures and erratic weather patterns are putting pressure on the very species that define Guyana's rich ...

Topics discussed during the workshop were: reporting requirements under the UNFCCC and the Paris Agreement, the work undertaken by Guyana so far to fulfil those requirements, and guidance on how ...

In order to prevent catastrophic climate change at a global level, the world has to take urgent action in reducing the amount of greenhouse gas emissions in the atmosphere.

Guyana this week began a validation workshop for its National Adaptation Plan (NAP), a blueprint for tackling the impacts of climate change ...

Environmental Engineer at work are professionals who work to find ways to correct or prevent environmental damage. Their duties can involve research-ing climate change and developing ways ...

As Minister responsible for climate change matters, it is my fervent hope that the technology action plans will form an integral part of our planning process for these key sectors and the project idea notes ...

Guyana has been described as being "particularly vulnerable" to climate change because of high levels of exposure and sensitivity to climate risks and limited capacity to adapt.

By 2025, the National Climate Change Committee operates as the premier consultative body that coordinates effective and sustained national support for the Office of Climate Change's mandate to ...

Guyana, based on the 1994 national inventory, makes only a minor contribution to emissions of greenhouse gases. However, increases in the global mean ...

Causes of Climate Change The main cause of the current climate trend is human expansion of the "greenhouse efect" and increased warming of the earth by human activities. These activities are ...

In 2010, the Government of Guyana launched a pioneering and historic, national scale model for addressing climate change - Guyana's Low Carbon Development Strategy (LCDS).

Guyana has prepared two National Communications to the United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change (UNFCCC) and is currently preparing the Third National Communication (TNC) ...

The climate has always been changing...but the pace is now faster than humans have ever seen. Climate change threatens to ma ke parts of the planet uninhabitable or inhospitable for life as we ...

Web: <https://idsolar.co.za>