

Against the backdrop of rising global energy prices, the decision by the Eurasian Five to establish a common electricity market is a rational step toward achieving balanced electricity prices ...

MINSK, December 6. /TASS/. Creation of a single electricity market will make it possible to reduce prices for end consumers in Russia and Belarus, President Vladimir Putin said.

The document signed by the two heads of state is designed to minimise losses in power grids, balance tariffs, ensure mutual electricity flow, and strengthen the energy security of Belarus, ...

The common market will operate based on rules that have already been worked out and are going through the approval process, which is tentatively expected to be completed in the first half ...

The document was signed by Belarusian President Aleksandr Lukashenko and Russian President Vladimir Putin at a meeting of the Supreme State Council of the Union State of Belarus and Russia in ...

MINSK, 6 December (BelTA) - Belarus and Russia have signed an interstate agreement on the formation of the united electricity market of the Union State.

"During the negotiations the parties discussed topical issues of forming EAEU common energy markets, including the status of international agreements on forming the common markets for ...

Belarusian Energy Minister Viktor Karankevich confirmed that the departments have made significant progress in this direction, including within the framework of implementing union programs. ...

The Council of the Republic, the upper chamber of Belarus's National Assembly, has approved the ratification of the Belarus-Russia agreement on the formation of a unified electricity ...

The agreement on the formation of the unified electricity market was signed by the presidents of the two countries at a meeting of the Supreme State Council in Minsk last January.

Web: <https://idsolar.co.za>